North Beach Water District Precautionary Boil Water Advisory Rescinded

Ocean Park — The Southwest Regional Office of Drinking Water has rescinded a precautionary boil water advisory for all North Beach Water District customers at 10:00 AM Thursday April 7, 2016. Normal water use can resume immediately for all customers.

Analysis of water samples by a Washington State Certified Laboratory confirmed the potable water supply is not contaminated.

North Beach Water District issued the precautionary boil water advisory on Monday, April 4, 2016, after a water main break in close proximity to a source of contamination on Bay Avenue near the intersection of Bay Avenue and Park Avenue.
